

From Life to Learning

Jill Barrett, Lorraine Marshall and Linda Butcher

The video, "From Life to Learning", aims to raise students' awareness of the skills, knowledge and abilities they bring to tertiary study from school and less formal learning environments.

In addition, students are challenged to consider the new learning culture of a tertiary institution which will require the modification of existing skills and abilities and the learning of new capabilities.

The video, "From Life to Learning", is designed to be shown to first year university students in the first week of semester. The video runs for 25 minutes and is accompanied by a booklet. The booklet provides a summary of the video and outlines small group activities that can be used by tutors.

"The video cleverly depicted 3 archetypal students which enabled most students to find a point of common ground. Being able to identify with life circumstances was really useful - it's not easy being a student regardless of your lot in life."

✂-----

Name _____

Address _____

Phone _____ Fax _____ Email _____

From Life to Learning Video $110.00 (incl. GST) per copy (includes postage) No. copies required _____

- I enclose a cheque/money order payable to Murdoch University OR
 Please invoice my company/institution OR
 Please charge my credit card: Bankcard / Mastercard / VISA

--	--	--	--

--	--	--	--

--	--	--	--

--	--	--	--

Card expiry date _____

Signature _____

Return to Susan Davies
(08) 9360 2142 Fax (08) 9310 8480
Teaching and Learning Centre,
Murdoch University, Murdoch,
Western Australia 6150
Email: slearn@central.murdoch.edu.au

Website:

<http://www.tlc.murdoch.edu.au/slearn/resource/ourmaterials.html>

Please note that a discount is available for the purchase of two or more videos, either a set of all three videos, or more than one of the same video. There is a $30.00 saving for two videos and a $50.00 saving for three videos.